

While chemical or biological incidents might not be among the top three hazards identified by hospitals in their emergency preparedness plans, environmental services professionals should be aware of the special preparation needed for chemical or biological events.

- In any event, the environmental services department is part of the facility emergency response team to identify current inventory and location of per-

+HDOWK &DUH ,QIHFWLR

(QYLUR6DYHU ,,

6LJHG WWR ¿